

Table with multiple columns detailing financial data across various categories: operating income, income from investments, interest income, dividends, income from property, and other income. It includes sub-totals for each major category and a final 'Total' row at the bottom.